Sweet Surrender

where/San Francisco

August 2007

Kids and adults alike will go wide-eyed with wonder at the treats at Russian Hill's latest confection, The Candy Store. Inside old-fashioned glass jars, you'll find nostalgic candies ranging from black licorice to Mallo Cups to Idaho Spuds. There are even fancy selections for more sophisticated palates: French caramels, premium chocolate bars, marzipan, and much more. Sugar junkies may find themselves relapsing into a sweet-induced shock.
